Democratic Leaders Speed Plans For Skeletonized NRA

Substitute NRA Principles Are Being Framed

Skeletonized NRA Proposals To Be Rushed Through Congress

LEADERS AGREE ON BASIC PRINCIPLES

No Involuntary Code Provisions To Be Included In Stop Gap Plan

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Underlying principles of a resolution continuing a skeletonized NRA until next April 1, were agreed upon today at a conference of Democratic congressional leaders and administration legal experts.

Difficulties in putting the measure into language immune from court attack, however, delayed action by the house ways and means committee.

Participating in the conference were Senator Harrison (D) Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee; Chairman Doughton (D) North Carolina, and other members of the house ways and means committee; Stanley Reed, solicitor general, and Donald R. Richberg, acting NRA head.

Agreement Reached

While Chairman Doughton refused to make a statement, another participant said an agreement had been reached upon the principles of an NRA resolution.

The ways and means committee which must set into motion machinery to meet the June 16 deadline of NRA, was forced to postpone its scheduled meeting.

The resolution, a revision of the Clark resolution which already has passed the senate, was being drafted by legal experts.

It was expected to provide for maintainance of a skeleton NRA, as a fact finding body as outlined by President Roosevelt, but eliminating all provisions affecting involuntary codes.

Doughton still had hopes of reporting the resolution to the house today so that it can be passed tomorrow.

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 6—Rains in the Kaw Valley west of Topeka, Kan., today swelled the flood waters of the surging Kaw river, adding a new menace to the meeting of the Kaw and Missouri rivers here.

AAA Amendment Adopted Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 6—An AAA amendment designed to remove a possible constitutional objection to processing taxes was adopted by the house agriculture committee today.

It provides that all taxes shall go into the treasury, and a specific appropriation of the entire amount is made to be used by the agricultural adjustment administration.

Processing taxes have been assailed on the ground that under the present law congress has surrendered its tax power to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

The committee considered other provisions of the administration's extensive revision of the AAA act to insure its constitutionality, without action.

Earle's Plan For Additional Taxes Is Rejected Today

Senate Finance Committee Rejects Plan For More Taxes Offered By Governor

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 5.—Gov. George H. Earle's request for additional taxes to meet the cash deficit of the state during the next few months under the 1935-1937 biennium which is, however, balanced for the biennium was rejected today by the senate finance committee.

Instead of imposing more taxes, the committee suggested a two-point plan involving temporary transfers from the motor fund and amending legislation making corporate income taxes payable before December 1, 1935, instead of next summer.

"Imposition of more new taxes could produce but one result—more money than the state actually needs," the committee's statement, issued by Sen. John J. McClure, Delaware, chairman, asserted.

RETURN TO WORK; DISASTER AVERTED

By ALVIN L. KRIEG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOLEDO, O., June 6—Toledo's power strike was averted today, before a light was turned off or a single wheel of industry crippled in this major industrial center or the 20 other communities which were faced for one day with a strike that would have darkened the homes of nearly 500,000 persons.

By overwhelming vote, the rank and file members of the two striking Toledo Edison company unions decided today to return to work immediately and place in the hands of their committee the authority to resume negotiations on their demands for wage increases. Ten minutes after the votes were counted, the first of the men returned to their jobs and operations today were normal.

Report Settlement.

News of the settlement—one that was effected under the watchful eye of President Roosevelt himself—was welcome news today to a score of cities that has resigned themselves to the prospects of candle light in their homes and factories closed, without electrical power.

The news was transmitted at once to officials of the department of labor at Washington, officials who recognized in the power strike threat here all the potentialities of a labor upheaval without precedent.

The settlement stood today as an outstanding victory for J. E. O'Connor, federal mediator, who arranged the conference between opposing sides which led to the strike vote by the unions. First of the 150 office workers voted unanimously, according to their leaders, to follow the ex-

SON'S NERVES ALSO BREAK UNDER STRAIN

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

GEORGETOWN, Del., June 6.—The steel nerves that enabled Mrs. May H. Carey to plot and commit the brutal murder of her brother snapped today.

The 55-year-old grandmother who, with her oldest son, Howard, 27, must die on the gallows tomorrow, became wildly hysterical and almost uncontrollable in her cell in the Sussex county jail. It was reported that she was so weak that Dr. Audrey C. Smoot, jail physician, fed her forcibly.

The mother's screams upset Howard, whose nerves at no time since he was placed in a death cell have been as strong as his mother's and his cries mingled with the screams of Mrs. Carey.

The condition of mother and son made it appear likely that they would need a deal of assistance to walk the one hundred steps from their cells to the prison yard and

ROOSEVELT WILL GO TO HYDE PARK FOR NEEDED REST

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Roosevelt will leave the Capital tomorrow night for an extended week end at his Hyde Park home. He plans to remain at Hyde Park until Wednesday.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(Special To The News)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 6.—The United States finally got an even break with all Europe Wednesday; Americans won $2,745,000 and all the rest of the world combined only $2,966,000 on the big Irish sweepstake, a lottery on the English Derby.

They're going to try to retain the best features of the NRA by persuasion, hours and wages.

You got to admit Roosevelt is trying to get a semblance of fairness. But they wouldn't even do it by law, so this scheme looks doubtful.

Bank Refuses To Obey Subpoena In Case Of Mellons

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh today refused to obey a subpoena issued by the board of tax appeals calling for it to produce 18 separate items involving financial transactions of Andrew W. Mellon and Richard W. Mellon, in connection with the government's income tax suit against the former secretary of the treasury.

The subpoena was issued Monday, and was vigorously opposed by Frank J. Hogan, general counsel for Andrew W. Mellon, and John G. Frazier, counsel for the Trust company. Frazier told the board of tax appeals he believed the subpoena was illegal and for that reason the company declined to obey it.

Robert S. Jackson, government counsel, said he would confer with Attorney General Cummings in regard to the matter and it was possible he would go into the federal court in Pittsburgh and ask it to issue a subpoena. If this action is taken the government tax case against Mellon will be delayed for several weeks.

One Suspect In Kidnaping Case Believed Held

No Confirmation Given On Reported Arrest Of Man For Quizzing

NAME SEVERAL PERSONS SOUGHT

Second Ransom Note Appears In Spokane, Wash., Officers Hear

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

TACOMA, Wash., June 6.—With the recovery of some ransom bills indicating that the kidnapers of George Weyerhaeuser had split up and were in full flight, and with one man believed to be already in custody, police and federal agents grimly pressed the hunt today for the "Egoist" snatch gang.

TACOMA, Wash., June 6.—The whereabouts of Jack Bailey, said to have been taken into custody by G-men for questioning in the $200,000 Weyerhaeuser kidnaping plot, remained a mystery today.

Several persons witnessed the seizure of a man believed to be Bailey last night at the Savoy Hotel at Seattle, where a "Joe Bailey" was registered.

No Confirmation

Department of Justice agents refused to deny or affirm the report that Bailey was under arrest. Bailey was said to be held in a Seattle apartment house or hotel while being subjected to questioning.

Bailey's name came into the Weyerhaeuser case yesterday when Detective Captain John Keenan, of Portland, Ore., issued an "arrest and detain" order against him and four others.

Bailey, once known as the "Alcohol King of Tacoma," was said to have been arrested upon a tip furnished by Captain Keenan at Portland.

He was last seen here on Mother's Day with a six foot two inch potbellied man whom he introduced as "the ex-governor of Oregon."

New Developments

Meanwhile, Tacoma buzzed with two new developments:

1. The results of a tour into the Issaquah, Wash., territory with little George Weyerhaeuser, 9, attempting to point the hideout spots of the "Egoist" gang.

2. A second ransom note, a $20 bill, No. L14719333A, appeared in Spokane, Wash. It was also reported another ransom bill, a $10 note, had appeared in Tacoma but Department of Justice agents would not comment.

Little George went to the Issaquah district, north of here, whence he was released by his kidnapers last Saturday. Several G-men accompanied the child. It was believed he was able to furnish several valuable clues.

Boy's Clues Followed

The abducted child said he was able to see "lights of a city" far in the distance when the blindfold placed over his eyes slipped.

TO PUSH ACTION ON GUFFEY BILL

Senate Likely To Approve Bill

Coal Bill May Be Put Ahead Of Social Security Legislation

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR QUICK ACTION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Senate leaders swung into line today for fast action on the Guffey bill to provide for federal regulation of the bituminous coal industry.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the majority leader, instructed the senate steering committee to consider the request of Senator Neely (D) of West Virginia, for speed on the Guffey bill. The social security legislation is scheduled to follow the pending Utility Holding Company bill, but Neely wants to put the coal bill ahead. Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, handling the social security bill, opposes precedence for the coal measure, as does Senator Logan (D) of Kentucky.

Coal Authority

The measure would set up a bituminous coal authority empowered to regulate among other things, hours and wages. There has been some question of its constitutionality, but supporters scouted these doubts. They argue the measure sets up a specific authority, and that the coal industry is unquestionably interstate commerce.

Logan will try to have the legislation sent to the senate mines and mining committee for consideration before action on the floor. The measure was handled by a subcommittee of the senate interstate commerce committee, and Logan, chairman of the mining committee, argues it should have come through this body.

Since President Roosevelt has asked quick action on the Guffey proposal, as well as on the Wagner labor disputes bill to prevent widespread strikes because of the NRA crisis, the senate is expected to fall in line.

the lights of Tacoma—but the lights of Seattle, instead. For several days the manhunt in the case has centered in the Seattle section.

Other persons wanted for questioning include:

Richard C. Franzeen and Elliott W. Michener, ex-convicts and fugitives from justice; Herbert Lester Johnstone, ex-Washington state reformatory inmate, and Clarence Martin.

The names of these men were broadcast by Captain Keenan as the net around the "Egoist" was believed to be closing.

Franzeen and Michener, ex-inmates of the Oregon state prison, are wanted at Salt Lake City in connection with a Denver & Rio Grande railroad holdup. Johnstone, assertedly once was connected with the Albert Bates-Machine Gun Kelly mob in connection with a suspected extortion plot against the mayor of Olympia, capital of Washington.

ample of the electrical workers union, the larger group. Then the electrical workers voted 237 to 22 to accept the peace plan and return to work at once.

Settlement Features

The settlement itself was simple enough. It provided:

1—That the strike be called off and strikers return to work at once.

2—That the union committee negotiate with company officials on their demands for wage increases. (The office workers' union, in addition to the wage boosts, is seeking an agreement as to working conditions; the electrical workers and the company are at agreement on that point.)

Word of the strikers' action spread like wildfire and it was not 10 minutes before all pickets were withdrawn from the five Edison Company plants here. Ten of the strikers—all "trouble shooters" for the power company, went directly to their jobs. The others returned to their work at seven a. m. at the time the shifts change.

The information that the nation's chief executive had interested himself in the strike was confirmed by both O'Connor and Oliver Myers, business agent for the striking electrical workers' union, as they emerged from the union meeting.

Geologists Seek "Ringing" Stones

Stones Found In State Give Off Notes Like Bell When Struck

HARRISBURG, June 6.—Summer explorers and amateur geologists in search of novelties may find them in trap rock sections of Pennsylvania in the form of "ringing" stones, according to Dr. George H. Ashley(geologist in the Department of Internal Affairs.

In the Philadelphia Academy of Science a "ringing" stone is supported by a chain, and bell-like tones are heard when the stone is struck with a hammer.

"In a number of places in the states," said Dr. Ashley, "accumulations of trap rock have the added attraction of sounding like bells when struck. However, only those boulders lightly supported by small contacts at three or less points will ring. A ringing rock removed from its natural place and supported by chains or otherwise will 'ring' quite as well as in nature."

New Bill Makes Dog Law Changes

HARRISBURG, June 6.—Governor Earle recently approved a bill passed by the General Assembly which makes several changes in the Pennsylvania dog law.

In the new law, domestic game birds are brought under the protection of the dog law the same as livestock and poultry. This means that damage claims will be received by the state from persons who sustain loss or damage by dogs to any game birds raised in captivity and while confined within an inclosure.

Another amendment relieves the owner of livestock, poultry or domestic game birds, from the necessity of proving that an animal dying from or killed because of rabies was actually bitten by a dog. However, claims covering damage due to rabies shall be made immediately following the death of livestock, poultry or domestic game birds, and shall be supported by a certificate from a licensed and duly qualified veterinarian or a report from the laboratory of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture to the effect that the animal covered by the claim was affected with rabies.

WEDDING OF INTEREST AT NEW BEDFORD HOME

Simplicity marked the quiet wedding Wednesday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClenahan of New Bedford, when their daughter, Ellen Mae, became the bride of George Wylie Wallace, son of Mrs. Jennie Wallace and the late George Wallace, New Bedford. The Rev. O. Brown, pastor of the Hopewell Presbyterian church of New Bedford, officiated with the ring service at 9:30 o'clock before a beautiful setting of summer flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white crepe ensemble, with accessories in white, and her only jewel was a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom. Her shoulder corsage was made up of Johanna Hill roses, sweet peas and valley lilies.

Mrs. Clyde Kelley, of New Bedford, and sister of the bride, was the only attendant. She chose a pink crepe frock, with shoulder bouquet of talisman roses and valley lilies.

Robert Cowher, a former classmate of the groom, served as best man.

The bridal party entered the living room to nuptial music played by Mary Alice McClenahan, cousin of the bride, her selection being "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

A wedding breakfast was served to sixteen guests at the bride's home immediately following the exchange of the vows. Pink and white tones prevailed and a large wedding cake topped with a tiny bride and groom, formed the attractive table centerpiece. Bouquets of the season's flowers and lighted pink tapers, completed the setting.

Later in the morning the young couple left on a motor trip, their destination being unrevealed. For traveling the bride wore a sand brown and yellow sports suit, with matching accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wallace attended the New Castle high school and he is now engaged in business at New Bedford, where they will make their home.

Among the guests who attended were Mrs. Jennie Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, Clyde Kelley, Clyde Robert Kelley and Margaret Rogers.

President's Day Observed By Local Jewish Women

Presidents' Day was observed by New Castle Section, National Council of Jewish Women, Wednesday afternoon in Temple Israel, with a large attendance, many of the guests coming from the Beaver valley, Sharon and other surrounding districts.

Mrs. William L. Cosel, president, presided over the occasion, being ably assisted by Mrs. M. Feuchtwanger, program chairman; Mrs. Harry Cukerbaum, tea chairman, and the following hostesses: Mrs. Dave Frank, Mrs. Eli Kaplan, Mrs. Simon Blau, Mrs. Mont Blau, Mrs. Morris Davis, Mrs. Harry Robins, Mrs. Emanuel Shenkan, Mrs. Maurice Schoenberger, Mrs. A. Marlin, Mrs. Jack Kulkin, Mrs. Ben Kline, Mrs. Ben Brown, Mrs. Sam Klafter, Mrs. Dave Silverman, Mrs. Joe Rizika, Mrs. Jack Lebby and Mrs. Irvin Grossman.

In opening the program, Mrs. Feuchtwanger paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Cosel for her splendid leadership during the successful year concluded yesterday and pledged the organization's support and loyalty for the succeeding year under her continued guidance. A welcome was extended to visitors and various presidents of local groups who responded. Beaver Falls was represented by five women, Mrs. Myer Berkman, Mrs. Emanuel Roman (a former resident), Mrs. Julius Averback, Mrs. M. Braun and Mrs. H. Farkus, the first named extending greetings from her organization.

Mrs. Theodore Rosenberg and Mrs. Sam Silverman, of Sharon, spoke for the Shenango valley section, and representatives of local societies voiced greetings to the council; Mrs. Louis Kohn, for Senior Hadassah; Mrs. Louis Sandler, Beth Shalom Sisterhood; Mrs. M. Slaven, Tifereth Israel Sisterhood; Mrs. Ben Kline, Jewish Ladies' Relief; Mrs. N. Ehrlich, Temple Israel; Mrs. M. Schoenberger, Junior Hadassah. Rugh was soloist, singing exceptionally well, three different groups of songs including: "Were My Song With Wings Provided," by Hahn; "Clouds," by Clokey; "The Star," by Rodgers, and Gladys Rich's popular composition, "The American Lullaby." She was ably accompanied by Mrs. Paul A. Welsh, another of New Castle's leading musicians.

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave the afternoon's address, announcing as his subject, "The Romance of a Race." It was an inspiring message in which he traced the history of the Jewish people from earliest times up to the present day. He likened the world to a stage upon which all peoples have a part, stressing the fact that much of the misunderstandings in life, are caused by not knowing each other. He urged development of individual improvement first, and then group improvement as an important contributing factor toward world betterment.

In closing the program, Mrs. Feuchtwanger called upon Rabbi Avery J. Grossfield who voiced expressively, several uplifting thoughts.

Inviting attention afterwards was the beautifully laid tea table which was laid with a lovely lace cover over pink, and centered with a gay bouquet of varied flowers. Tall pink and blue tapers in silver holders, completed the center arrangement, around which were colorful and tasty refreshments. Mrs. Cosel and Mrs. Feuchtwanger poured and aides were the hostesses.

Highlights of the business meeting, preceding the program, were varied, and showed the progressiveness of this active New Castle organization of Jewish women. The council voted a contribution to the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide Society. Also undertaken was the partial maintenance and education of a German refugee child, the National Council having assumed responsibility for 250 of these children who will be cared for in the United States during the period of oppression in Germany.

Most important was an acceptance note read from the state organization, National Council of Jewish Women, for the biennial conference to be held in New Castle in the fall of 1936.

The council endorsed Bill H. R. 8163, relative to making immigration laws more humane, members being urged to address letters to representatives and senators asking their support.

Invitations were read from the Butler Council Jewish Women for a joint meeting with Hadassah chapter in Butler, June 11, and another in regards to a family relationship school at Carlisle, Pa., June 17 to 21.

A beautiful quilt donated by Mrs. L Zieve, for philanthropic purposes, was on display, adding a bright color note to the decorative scheme of the scene.

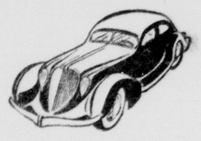
STRENGTH BRINGS PROTECTION

— to automobiles as well as battleships. ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS bring new protection . . . because they are 3 times stronger.

3 times stronger



ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS

THROUGH a revolutionary process, ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS are now made 3 times stronger than the average of other oils. The two steel test-bearings show how important this is in reducing engine wear and keeping down repair bills!

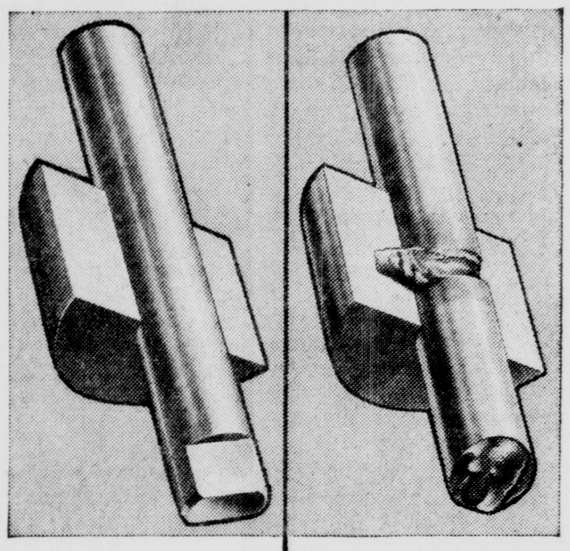
Both bearings were subjected to identical tests in the Almen Film-Strength Testing Machine . . . originated by General Motors . . . and the way they came through indicates what can take place inside your engine.

The 3-to-1 strength of ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS has been proved in 3656 tests of oils of all kinds, including well-known brands.

And these new oils not only resist high pressures . . . but they hold their lubricating qualities at high engine temperatures, giving added protection in hot-weather driving. They form less sludge even than before.

Pistons, cylinder walls, wristpins and bearings all need the new protection of ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS. Fill your crankcase today!

Atlantic QUALITY Lubricants KEEP UPKEEP DOWN



• This test-bearing was protected by High Film-Strength ATLANTIC MOTOR OIL. It remained smooth and unscored at pressures of greater than 7½ tons per square inch.

• This bearing was lubricated by another oil with a national reputation. The oil film was ruptured, and the bearing badly scored, at pressures of about 2½ tons.

7½ tons pressure can't break Atlantic oil film

TAKE TIME FOR BEAUTY!

IN this workaday world all of us are prone to center our thoughts on the materialistic things in life, to so concentrate upon the means of our livelihood that we shut out of our lives much of the beautiful.

Just now when Dame Nature is in such an effulgent mood, when the gardens reflect the rainbow with their kaleidoscope of color, we are denying ourselves one of the pleasures of life if we do not take time to appreciate the beauty that lies all around us.

To enjoy a concentration of beauty is even more of a pleasure and on Tuesday afternoon and evening, June 11, the foyer of the Cathedral will be just that a concentration of beauty when the Lawrence County Garden Club holds its flower show.

The choicest blooms of the garden will be on display there, huge bouquets of peonies, and delphinium and roses, along with their multicolored brothers and sisters.

It speaks well for a community when a group of women such as the Lawrence County Garden Club take the time and devote the energy necessary to a flower show. Their efforts should be rewarded with a crowd all during the show. All of us should take time for beauty!

LONG RANGE WEATHER FORECASTS

Sir Hubert Wilkins, a member of the Ellsworth-Wilkins antarctic expedition now being planned, says that an expedition to gain more scientific knowledge of the polar regions is a step in the direction of gaining knowledge of the weather and solving some of the world's economic difficulties.

It will be impossible, says Sir Hubert, to gain a comprehensive idea of the mechanism of the weather without a knowledge of the poles as well as the latitudes. The prediction is made that the day will come, probably soon, when life will be enjoyed without fear, and that will depend much on expeditions to the polar regions. It will then be possible to inform producers as to the possibility of production and its control, to give assurance that all human needs will be supplied, and that under or overproduction can be planned to prevent market fluctuations.

Polar expeditions have been directed to discovery of land and charting of shores, but something new is to be a part of the work of the next expedition—a study of weather conditions with a view to long-range forecasts. Whatever knowledge of the weather is gained, however slight, will be important, in view of the U. S. weather bureau's reports that more must be learned upon which to base long-range forecasts.

THE SEASON FOR ADVICE

As this is the season of brief glory for the college senior so is it the season of high and arresting pronouncement (with resulting publicity) upon life, death and other matters by distinguished persons who address the graduating classes. "A good mathematician will make a better wife than a good cook," said a New York divine to the girl graduates of a New York college, opening the season and attesting that June is around the corner.

As a beginning, it was entirely satisfactory and got in all the papers. Before many days have passed, however, we shall expect to hear (and will not be disappointed) more startling and original dictums. Doubtless we shall hear that besides mathematicians, the person likely to make a good wife is anything from a trapeze performer in the circus to a lady brick-layer. We shall expect to hear that for young men the way to success ranges from that classic formula of several years ago, in which he was counselled to be a snob and marry the boss's daughter to answering chain letters.

To us it is immensely refreshing, if a little confusing. One of the consolations of having passed the age when youth sets forth upon a conquest of the world is freedom from the necessity of following so much advice.

POCKETBOOK VOTES

Sound the cymbals, beat the drums! The embattled western farmers have voted and they stand 6 to 1 for the extension of the "balanced production" program for raisers of wheat. If official Washington is surprised, is must be that the ratio was not nearer 7 to 0. If ever a "referendum" designed to affect the progress of important national legislation was a foregone conclusion, this is the one.

So, on the basis of what just could not fail to be the response from a class on which favors have been literally showered by the administration, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and the AAA Administrator Davis are going right ahead preparing contracts binding the farmers to the program for four years more.

Four years is a mighty long time for a nation to make contracts with the producers of any agricultural crop.

There is, fortunately, no rigidity about the contracts. An unfavorable referendum by the wheat farmers can terminate them, though the individual farmer has not that option. The secretary of agriculture, too, can terminate them on due adequate notice. Thirty per cent is the maximum acreage reduction that can be ordered and the figure is annually determinable by the secretary.

Right here the nation glimpses something of the scope of regulated business as contemplated by the New Deal with planting figures determinable by government in return for cash and other compensations. This concept of regulated agriculture as a permanency, not as an emergency measure, gives more than an inkling of what President Roosevelt had in mind early in the first year of the New Deal when he referred to abiding "pillars of the temple." Running counter as it does to accepted economic theory of the past, it inevitably will be injected into the next presidential campaign.

Owen D. Young wants congress to quit. Making it unanimous.

It isn't poverty that makes bandits. A poor man couldn't save enough money to buy a machine gun.

As the chief exponent of NRA in its palmiest days General Johnson naturally is chosen to advise business in the new condition.

Comparable with the man biting the dog in our catalog of news values would be a "strike" by coal operators against the miners.

Of course if decisions of the United States supreme court are unpopular with the New Deal one way to remedy the situation, as Congressman Ramsay of West Virginia has proposed, is to change the court.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

HE GAVE ME A "LIFT"

Once, as I rode through the mountains, I overtook and passed an old man with a bundle on his back, going down the road. . . . Night was coming on and he was miles away from any town, and I wondered about him. Then I pitied him and set my foot on the brake and stopped the car and waited for him to come abreast and hailed him.

I had thought to see an old and sad eyed man, eager for a lift on his way. . . . But when he raised his head I saw a face happier than mine. I saw eyes with a twinkle in them. Saw a mouth with the corners turned up. Saw a face with hardly a line in it, pink with health. Heard a voice that was strong and cheerful.

And more as a favor to me, riding alone, than any favor to him, walking by himself, he accepted a seat at my side and went my way. . . . And soon I learned that he was as happy as he looked to be. There was no sadness in him, no anxiety, no bitterness. He was at ease in the world, he was calm and certain. . . . Little by little I learned that he had done his part, done his share of this world's chores.

For many a year he had worked as other men do. Had had a good woman for his wife, and the two of them had raised a sizeable family, but she was gone and his children were out in the world and needed him no more. And he would be no burden to them nor to any other mortal. So he had a little house all to himself and a bit of an income, and sometimes he would roll up his blankets and be on his way to see some of the world that he'd missed. . . . It was on one of these trips that we encountered each other.

And when we came to a turn in the road and he said he'd gone far enough and would be getting out there—he thanked me for the lift I had given him and I thanked him twice as heartily for the lift he had given me. . . . Because I knew, although he didn't, that I had received much more from him than he had from me.

FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES LEAD TO NEW ECONOMIC BALANCE

Haven't you found relief in the fact that you no longer bluff as you did when your financial status was better.

You were constantly worried because of recurrent expenses necessary to maintain your position.

Many times you wished yourself rid of it all.

Frequently you considered retrenchment to ease your load.

But you did not have the courage.

Your wife probably had something to do with your decision.

It is hard for women to give up social position.

But you knew all along that you were living beyond your means.

How hard you tried to increase your income before acknowledging defeat! However, the outlay always kept ahead of the supposed increase in income.

Many of those you know have had to retrench, and it seems easier now for you to follow the same course.

But why did you have to wait for others to call a halt before you would be sensible.

By this time you were convinced that you have been foolish.

And there is relief in conducting your personal affairs according to your own income and not in an effort to present a front.

DIFFICULTIES

I met an old man yesterday
And this he said to me:
"It wasn't on the level way
Adventure came to me;
And looking back on pleasures flown,
It all is very plain.
The sweetest thrills I've ever known
Were difficult to gain.

"I used to fret and grieve and sigh
And shake my head in doubt,
And wonder through the weeks if I
Could work my problem out.
I used to wish that I could find
Some easy task to do.
That difficulties can be kind
Back then I never knew.

"Time was I thought that toil was grim
And ease and pleasure sweet.
I used to sit and envy him
Who had no odds to meet.
And yet I've found, when all is done
And count the gains I've made,
The happiest victories I've won
Were when I was afraid.

"The easy task has naught to give
Of pleasure and of pride.
The man who joyously would live
Must have his courage tried.
For difficulty and despair
And danger and defeat
And disappointments hard to bear
Are what make victory sweet."

Congressmen and their families get free medical service from a chief doctor and three assistants. They are just medical doctors and surgeons.

But he is never afraid of the boss if he knows he is doing first class work.

Gov. Earle just signed the law that makes a fine of $500 and six months in jail to those who swear falsely in order to get on the relief lists. No doubt some of those birds could get the money to pay the fine.

SOUND BUSINESS ADVICE

Give useful, conscientious service. Do each job that comes your way the best you can. Don't gamble—don't try to get something for nothing.

An important factor in all business is promptness.

MARVELS OF THE AIR

Dental creams and shaving soaps,
Freckle cures and facial lotions;
Shampoo wonders, dandruff dopes.

Gadgets for the limousine,
Flakes that jump to clean the dishes;
Ballyhoos for gasolines,
Stocks and bonds for sucker fishes.
Pills both plain and sugar-coated,
Balms for sundry kinds of odors;
Tours to ocean side promoted,
Piston rings for sickly motors.
If with such a line of chatter
You will only string along,
After all the tedious patter
Maybe you will get a song.

There should be one more law and it should provide for a ten dollar fine for the mug who blows an auto horn long and loud without any reason. Cutting their legs off just below the chin would also be about right.

WOOL FROM RABBITS NOW

Two years ago a teacher named Lebedev at the University of Belgrade, Serbia, started an Angora rabbit farm headed by a huge specimen obtained from England. Lebedev now has 1,500 rabbits on his place which he clips the same as sheep four times a year. The product, "Angora wool," brings him an average yearly return of more than $3.20 a rabbit while the cost of maintaining the animal averages only 62 cents a year. What the sheepmen think of this new industry could not be printed here.

AN OLD SALT AND SAND

Come out of the East, my dreams, my dreams,
For the ships of the desert have never a sail,
The waves of the desert are gold.
Come out of the East, my dreams, take hold
Of the shivering sheet again, stalking the gale
Off old Nantucket, my dreams.

Come out of their tents, my dreams, my dreams,
Let the song of the desert return to its sands,
This desertward longing lie calm.
In old Nantucket a potted palm.
Rasps lightly together its long fingered hands:
Come out of the East, my dreams.

The World At A Glance

Dred Scott Decision Recalled. Its Effect On Nation Reviewed. Civil War Followed Decision.

This is the third of three articles by Leslie Eichel on the supreme court and the constitution.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 6.—In speaking of the NRA decision of the United States supreme court, many papers hark back to the Dred Scott decision.

In effect, what was the Dred Scott decision?

Woodrow Wilson, in his "A History of the American People," explained:

"Two days after the inauguration of Mr. James Buchanan of Pennsylvania as president in 1857, the supreme court of the United States uttered through Mr. Taney, its chief justice, an opinion which went even beyond the Kansas-Nebraska act in its radical rejection of the Missouri compromise.

"The case was that Dred Scott, a Negro of Missouri, whom his master had taken first into one of the free states and then into the territory from which slavery had been excluded by the legislation of 1820.

"The Negro sought, after his return to Missouri and the death of his master, to obtain his freedom, on the ground that his temporary residence on free soil had operated to annul his master's rights over him; but the court decided against him.

"More than that, though it left the proper field of the case itself, and therefore uttered mere obiter dicta, in doing so, it went on to declare that the legislation of 1820, which had forbidden slavery in part of the territory of the United States, must be considered unconstitutional and without legal effect.

"Slaves, as such, Mr. Taney argued, for the court, were not citizens, in the contemplation of the constitution, but property merely. Neither congress nor the territorial governments, which derived their whole authority from congress, could legally legislate with hostile purpose against any kind of property belonging to the citizens of states. Slave owners might carry their slaves, as they might carry any other property, where they chose within the federal domain. None but a state could exclude their lawful bondsmen."

Mr. Wilson continued:

"Here was not only a blow in the face of all Free Soilers, Anti-Nebraska men, and Republicans, but a blow dealt, straight at Mr. Stephen Douglas' doctrine of popular sovereignty as well.

"The court's opinion suffered no interference with slavery by any authority but that of a full-fledged state, and the exclusion of slavery from territories was out of the question. Out of the question in law, it seemed, but yet not in fact."

What followed was not peace and order, but strife and terrible civil war. The supreme court had divided the nation worse than ever.

It soon was to observe the rise of a man who was to say: "A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this country cannot stand. I believe this country cannot endure half slave and half free. I do not expect the house to fall, but I expect it will cease to be divided. It will become all one thing or all the other."

Thus spoke Abraham Lincoln.

TODAY'S "SLAVES"

Now men of today—certain groups of men—are referring to themselves as the slaves of industry, of landowners, of monied groups, of mortgage holders.

They see in social and economic legislation their hope for freedom.

The NRA was not seen as the way toward relief, but other more fundamental social legislation was. When the supreme court invalidated the NRA it implied that the constitution did not countenance federal action on such matters as intrastate wages and hours.

Thus the comparison made with the Dred Scott decision. And thus the fear, expressed by the Roosevelt administration that disorders might result in the coal and textile industries, and spread to an entire nation.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HE HAD AN IDEA

Every child loves "Mickey Mouse." Grown-ups are not immune. "The Big Bad Wolf" was a classic, and in the five years since Walter Disney created this character, he has become a millionaire from his earnings. Before that time, Mr. Disney was an unknown artist.

Besides being a millionaire himself, he employs more than two hundred persons in his Hollywood workshop in turning out "Mickey Mouse" pictures and other comics he created later.

This is all the result of an idea Mr. Disney worked out, with many failures and discouragements at the beginning, but which, after three years, began pouring money into his coffers and is still going strong.

THURSDAY, JUNE 6

June 6, 1755—Nathan Hale was born in Coventry, Conn., a feeble infant who was not expected to survive. He was destined to become a blonde, blue-eyed strapping 6-foot Adonis, a genuine "ladies" man, who immortalized himself by declaring "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country" as the British shot him to death in an apple orchard. The British were justified: he was a spy sent into New York by Gen. Washington, and the evidence of his spying was found in his shoe.

June 6, 1798—Imprisonment for debt was outlawed in the United States by Congress, a reform of tremendous importance, because persons often spent longer in jail for owing $10 than for committing a murder!

But you're wrong if you believe that imprisonment for debt has been abolished in the United States. Men are still sent to jail for nonpayment of alimony.

June 6, 1804—Louis Antoine Godey was born in New York, destined at 26 to found Godey's Lady's Book, the first magazine exclusively for women ever published, and the most famous. When he retired as editor after 47 years it was his greatest satisfaction that "not an immoral thought or profane word" could be found in its pages during all the years he published it.

June 6, 1809—Timothy Shay Arthur was born in a farm near Orange County, New York, destined to write 100 novels, one of them the classic "10 Nights in a Barroom."

Writing Wrongs. You're Wrong if you believe—

That because of a curse, all those who had anything to do with the opening of King Tut's tomb have died.

George S. Duncan, Washington, D. C., points out, of the five who actually opened the tomb, only one has died. Of the 22 present at the opening, 16 are alive. Of the 20 present at the opening of the sarcophagus, 18 are alive. Of the 10 who actually examined the king's body, none is dead.

And you're wrong if you believe—That churches are non-existent in Soviet Russia and nobody there ever goes to church.

Actually there are numerous churches open, and they're crowded on the religious days, Lindesay Perrott writes from Moscow.

TELLING TALES

"Well, my dear sir," said the medical man, beaming at his new patient, "and I suppose you followed my prescription?"

"Good gracious, no, doctor," returned the other. "I should have broken my neck if I had."

The doctor staggered back.

"Eh, what?" he ejaculated.

"The other doctor who came to look at me threw it out of my bedroom window," said the patient.

CROOKED AND HOW!

The scene was the interior of a saloon in the far west, and around the table were gathered as tough a gang as could be found in the whole of California. The game was fast and furious, the stakes were high.

Suddenly the dealer flung his cards on the table and threateningly pulled out his six-gun.

"Boys," he shouted, " the game ain't a straight one. Slippery Sam ain't playing the hand I dealt him."

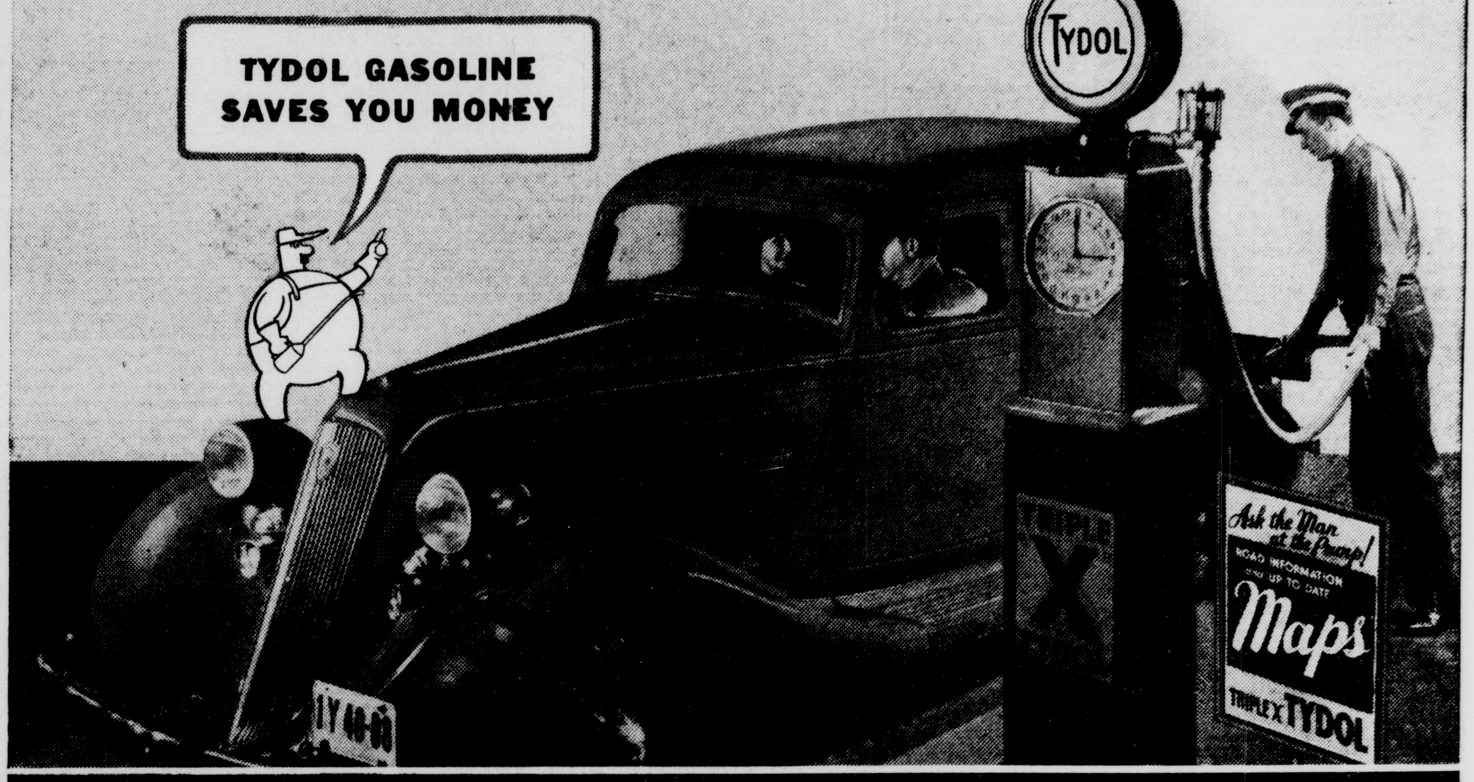
"I cut down Carbon"
says...THE ENGINEER IN EVERY GALLON



THE TOP-CYLINDER OIL IN EVERY GALLON CONTAINS A CARBON-SOLVENT

WE SAY that Tydol Gasoline has "an engineer in every gallon" because into every gallon is blended a special top-cylinder oil. This lubricant is also a carbon-solvent, which keeps valves and top-cylinders free from rust and carbon.

The gasoline itself distributes this super-lubricant to the valves and the piston-heads of your motor...vital spots which your motor oil does not reach. By freeing those important motor-parts from carbon, by reducing heat, by smoothing out friction...lubricating Tydol means a smoother, quieter, more effortless motor.

This extra lubrication service in Tydol means extra miles in every gallon and extra power in every mile. Yet you can put "the engineer in every gallon" to work for you at no extra cost...for Tydol, the lubricating gasoline, costs no more than ordinary motor fuels.

Tide Water Oil Company, New Castle, Pa.

TAKE UNCLE SAM'S WORD...
"This Gasoline Is Different"
Tydol pays Uncle Sam an extra tax because it contains a special top-cylinder lubricant ...yet TYDOL, the lubricating gasoline, does not cost you a penny extra. That is why Uncle Sam says: "This gasoline is different."

TRIPLE "X" TYDOL
THERE IS TOP-CYLINDER OIL IN EVERY GALLON

Painful Piles
Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves
If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Roid the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.
After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe, way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.
Pile sufferers everywhere are benefitting by Dr. Leonhardt's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co., and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money back."

Gill Family On Witness Stand Deny Charges

Sherman Strawser, 29, Accuses Mr. And Mrs. Leroy Gill And Daughter Of Plot

(International News Service)

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., June 6.—Black-haired Zella Gill, 16, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gill, today took the stand in a crowded Snyder county courtroom to deny the accusations of Sherman L. Strawser, farmhand, that they forced him into the murder of Charles Gable, his former employer, for which he has been sentenced to death in the electric chair.

Strawser, frequently bursting into tears under the ordeal of testifying against his former sweetheart and her parents, charged all three "deviled" and goaded him into robbing Gable to procure money to pay a liquor fine for the girl's father and buy her a wedding dress.

Attacks Strawser

J. Francis Gilbert, counsel for the Gills, opening the defense, charged Strawser with perjury and told the rural jury:

"There is absolutely no murder in any degree in this case. The Gills did not know a thing about the killing."

Gilbert lost his motion, nevertheless, to strike out the testimony of Strawser from the record after the farmhand admitted under cross-examination statements he had made at the time of his arrest and the testimony at his own trial contained "lies."

The defense attorney charged that under the law of 1860 a person who commits "wilful and corrupt perjury" is forever disqualified as a witness but John L. Pipa Jr., special prosecutor, found a later law which he said provided no one can be disqualifeid for perjury unless they are tried, convicted and sentenced.

Slayer Tells Story

Strawser told the jury Gill had threatened to send him "for a long ride" on a morality charge involving Zella unless he robbed Gable for money to pay the liquor fine and marry the girl. The Gills, he charged, taunted him for days and called him "baby," "coward" and "no good" when he at first refused.

Thomas Van Buskirk, who occupied a cell with Gill in the Snyder county prison where Zella's father was held for failure to pay the liquor fine, testified Gill had told him:

"'Strawser is going to get me out of Jail.'"

On the morning of February 12, the day Gable was slain, Van Buskirk said Gill told him he would be free as soon as Strawser raised the money.

Police told the jury $80 Strawser took from Gable after striking him with a hammer and then shooting him fatally, was found hidden in the Gill home.

Gill stared at Strawser as he gave the testimony by which Pipa hopes to send the farm family to the electric chair. Mrs. Gill and Zella several times were on the verge of tears as the farmhand poured out his story and Zella wept openly when Strawser told how he had been intimidated by her father.

For the most part Zella and her mother were busy with four of the seven Gill children they brought to court. The youngest was little more than a year old.

Although he was badly shaken while giving his direct testimony, Strawser quickly regained his composure for the gruelling cross examination to which he was subjected.

DEACONESS BECHTOL SPEAKS LAST NIGHT

Efficiency in missionary work by the several Christian churches, many people in dire poverty, a great opportunity to do good, were the high points of the address by the Deaconess Margaret Bechtol last evening when she spoke for an hour and a half and in addition answered many questions on missionary efforts in Peurto Rico to 36 women assembled in Trinity rectory. Much interest was stirred in the hearts and minds of all who heard this story of real Christian endeavour and many have volunteered their help. The Church Helpers assisted Mrs. P. C. Italian Unit At East Side Is Interesting

Prior to the close of school, pupils of the 4A class of the Thaddeus-Stevens school presented an interesting program, an Italian unit, showing what the Italian people have contributed to civilization.

In the geography room, under the supervision of Mrs. McClurg, the scholars made a thorough study of Italy. A huge pictorial map was drawn and products of Italy were placed on it. The Bay of Naples and a real Mt. Vesuvius, miniature of course, were cleverly modeled on a table. Through their instructor Miss Davies, the pupils learned about Italian art. Following a study of the heroes of Italy and their influence on the development of the country, a historical play was developed under the direction of Miss Sankey. Miss Grimes, Miss Courtney, Miss McNees and Miss Coulter were other members of the faculty responsible for the interesting presentation.

The program and those who took part:

Song—America.
Flag Salute.
Scripture in Italian—Lois DeLillo.
Lord's Prayer.
Italian Hymn—"Come Thou Almighty King."
Story—Miss Anna Perry.
Italian Canoe Song.
Bob and Sally's Trip to Italy.

Our Italian Names—Shirley Criswell.

Constitutional Revision Urged

Columbia University Head Would Also Require Candidates To Pass Examination

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich., June 6.—While a lively battle raged over the presidency of the General Federation of Women's clubs, the 5,000 delegates to its triennial convention here today received a plea for support "if at some day we try to amend the constitution to meet the needs of the day" to enact legislation similar to the NRA.

The appeal, made by Dr. Waldo Stephens of Columbia university, New York City, was coupled with his recommendation that congressmen and legislators be given written examinations before they are permitted to run for office.

Coal Appeal Is Dismissed

Dismissal Of Case Comes As Aftermath Of Decision On NRA By Court

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., June 6.—The appeal of Thomas J. Sparks, United States district attorney, Louisville, Ky., against the Hart Coal Co., and 33 other coal mining concerns of Western Kentucky, stood dismissed today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here.

Dismissal of the case came as an aftermath of the United States Supreme Court decision against the NRA and the announcement by the national administration of its intention to dismiss all government suits under the act.

The coal code suit here was brought by the coal companies to restrain the district attorney from bringing civil or criminal action against them for code violations. District Judge Charles I. Dawson of Louisville, had held the companies were engaged in intra-state commerce and that the code provisions as to minimum hours and wages could not be enforced against them.

KIDNEY MISERY THING OF PAST

Suffering Stopped When He Discovered Into-Vin Medicine

MR. HOOVER L. HENRY, of 429 Pear St., Harrisburg, says: "My kidneys simply kept me in CONSTANT misery, in fact, I was so stiff and sore in my back when I got up in the mornings that I could hardly EVEN WALK, and I had to keep rising with my kidneys all night long, which broke up my sleep and rest. I tried everything under the sun but nothing helped me until I got Indo-Vin and it has done me more good than everything else PUT TOGETHER. My kidneys are acting in a normal manner now, I can go to bed and sleep and don't have to keep getting up and down all night and I don't have and kidney misery in my back. This medicine is a 'wonder' and I gladly endorse it." You can now get Indo-Vin at Eckerd's drug store, here in New Castle and from all good druggists throughout this whole section.

RESCIND ORDER ON REPAYMENT OF WAGE BOOST

MACON, Ga., June 6.—Disregarding the invalidation of NRA by the supreme court, Happ Brothers Co. rescinded an order under which 700 workers in the garment manufacturing plant here would have had to refund a 10 per cent wage increase.

Last week, as a result of the supreme court decision against the NRA, the company announced the refund would have to be made.

Base State Aid For Hospitals On Merit Plan

Assistance To Institutions Has Been Readjusted Following Study

SUGGEST SERVICE COSTS BE STUDIED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 6.—"State-aid to hospitals has been a major log-rolling item at each session of the legislature," Rep. Herbert B. Cohen, York, house appropriations committee chairman, charged today in announcing grants for the next two years have been readjusted on the basis of a study made by the committee.

"The result has been," Cohen added, "that an inequitable structure of state-aid to hospitals has been developed which has not promoted the most effective use of funds of the state which are budgeted each biennium as a subsidy to assist the recipient institutions to provide care for those persons who cannot pay for such service."

Cohen said the revised allocations for the 163 state-aided hospitals, totaling $7,500,000 for the next two years, may be made public and inserted in the appropriations bill late this week or early next week.

Gradual Change Voted.

In an effort to withdraw state aid from "the realm of politics, preference and personalities," the committee decided, Cohen explained, not to make too abrupt or too extensive a readjustment of subsidies because of the danger of seriously disrupting free service at many institutions. So far as was practically possible, he said, limited readjustments for the next two years were made.

The appropriations committee recommended that hospitals make a study of their service costs in an effort to provide hospitalization on a reduced cost basis to persons who do not desire to become free patients but cannot afford to become private pay patients.

The committee recommended further the legislature take steps to reimburse hospitals for emergency service in automobile accidents. It urged measures be enacted to give hosptials a lien on any money recovered in damage suits by accident victims and that a percentage of the motor vehicle receipts be allotted to reimburse hospitals for services for indigent automobile victims.

Cite Specific Cases.

"As concrete illustrations of the inequities of the appropriations for the previous biennium," the committee pointed out the Rochester General hospital, Beaver county, received 100 per cent reimbursement for its free work which was only 21 per cent of the total service rendered, while the Mercy hosptial and school for nurses, Philadelphia, which performed the largest amount of free service in the state, 87.1 per cent, received but 54.6 per cent reimbursement.

The Providence hospital, Beaver Falls, the committee said, in 1934 received over $5,250 from the state, $10,000 from the Beaver county commissioners and $600 in gifts while free service totaled $12,000, giving the hospital a net profit on free service of about $4,000. At the same time the hospital lost $9,000 on expenses in the care of pay patients.

Per diem costs ranged from $1.98 a day in the Braddock General hospital to $5.32 a day in the Grandview hospital, Oil City, the committee found.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. June 5, three arrests on charges as follows: Suspicion 1, disorderly conduct 1 and parking violation 1.

Percentage of face tax collected for 1935 as of May 31, was 45.36 which was better than for two years past according to City Controller Earl Wimer, who also presented some ideas yesterday. He showed the percentage collected as of May 31 for 1933-35 and then stated that "cheap money for the municipalities is available" and added that many cities are taking advantage one of them Springfield, Mass., of the opportunity to reduce its costs.

He said that the tax duplicates (original) in 1933 was $584,681.95 and amount of face collected as of May 31 was $222,281.76 or 38.02 percent. The duplicate (original) in 1934 was $585,057.90 and amount of face collected was $245,729.43 or 42 percent and in 1935, the tax duplicates (original) amounted to $584,629.01 and the amount of face tax collected was $265,196.24 or 45.36 per cent which was in excess of the years of 1933 and 1934.

Wimer declared that the city has on deposit in local banks an accumulation of $170,000.00, in its sinking fund on which the city receives only one percent interest. During 1935, there will be retired $23,000 worth of bonds. At the same time the city is paying 4½ percent interest on its bonds and as high as six percent on short term notes.

Using $170,000.00, as a basis, he said, the city will receive from the banks in which this money is deposited $1,700.00 in a year while the interest on $170,000.00 worth of its 4½ percent bonds will amount to $7,650.00, or a difference of $5,950.00. On short term notes on which the city pays six percent interest, the difference would be much greater.

Last week the legislature passed a bill which makes it possible for third class cities to refinance their bonded indebtedness, according to Wimer. He said he had not yet read the bill but believes it will make it possible for the city of New Castle to reduce its debt service costs. He then declared that cheap money for the use of municipalities is available and some cities are taking advantage of the opportunity to reduce costs. He pointed out that Springfield, Mass., reports that it has been successful in borrowing money as low as one fourth of one percent and this was on short term loans.

After concrete posts and signs have been placed it would be a splendid idea to repair, repaint and re-letter traffic signs. Some of them are everything but good to look at. The city engineer explained yesterday that some old street signs were re-enameled and when weather conditions wore off the enamel the street name formerly on the sign glared at pedestrians and citizens. As soon as such signs are discovered they are removed, he declared.

Miss Myra Nixon has a lead pencil that apparently is an everlasting pencil. She got it at the B. R. & P. Cherry street, when the Armistice was signed November 11, 1918. She took it to her home and laid it away. Wednesday she took the pencil to the city health bureau. It has been used but little and she said yesterday she would take the pencil home and keep it. Less than one quarter of the lead in the pencil has been used.

There are numerous tracts of ground in the city of New Castle on which there are liens which have been in existence for some time. However, the liens are renewed every five years. Many of the tracts could be used by manufacturing concerns. During the past few years the inspector of the legal department has been making amicable lien renewals according to legal bureau attaches.

Rural Avenue and Cascade street beginning at East Washington street and running to Butler avenue are in bad condition. There are holes in each. In Cascade street a manhole protrudes above the cartway. There are several patches of bare stone in Rural avenue.

PENNSYLVANIA POWER COMPANY

On Court House Hill

An amicable action in ejectment has been filed in the prothonotary's office by Fanny Weinberg against Charley John to secure possession of a property located on Reynolds street.

The Harris Pump and Supply Company has filed a scire facias to revive a lien of $700 against C. E. Humphry.

A writ of foreign attachment has been issued by George F. Rohee against Cleo Murtland, in which the sheriff is directed to attach an automobile.

In the case of the Pennsylvania Joint Stock Land Bank against the Neshannock Mutual Fire Insurance Company, which came before the court on a rule granted on the plaintiff's motion to strike from the record the answer filed to plaintiff's reply, Judge R. L. Hildebrand has handed down an opinion in which the rule is discharged. The case is one growing out of the burning of a barn, and a claim for $1800 insurance, about which there is a dispute.

In order to secure a court ruling as to the proper course to pursue in the collection of delinquent taxes under the new delinquent tax act, the county commissioners through their attorney, William McElwee, have brought an action in which the defendants named are County Controller R. C. McCaslin, County Treasurer, William O. Pitts, Edward Umbright, delinquent tax collector, W. J. Graham, delinquent tax collector of Hickory township George T. Weingartner and John W. Cox, taxables and others. Under an act passed April 3, 1851 a system of collection was established in Venango county under what was called the Venango act. In March, 1852 this act was extended to cover Lawrence county. Supplements were passed in 1854. Under the act county taxes in Lawrence county became delinquent on September 1st and were placed in the hands of collectors, who under an act passed in May, 1854 could add 5 per cent for collection. It seems that the county commissioners don't have anything to do with this provision. The commissioners want to take advantage of the new 1935 act whereby penalties and interest are stricken off, provided the taxable pays his 1935 tax before Nov. 1, and 20 per cent of his delinquent taxes. In view of the provision for collectors adding five per cent, they want to know where they are at, and have accordingly asked the court for an opinion. Judge Hildebrand has fixed June 17th for a hearing.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand has handed down an opinion in the case of Hazel Lambright Inboden, and Blanche and Grace Lambright against Donald Lambright, which came before the court on a motion for judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense. The case is one in which both the plaintiffs and defendant are owners of a property at Enon, which Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Patterson want to buy for $1500. Both sides are willing to sell at that figure, but the defendant, Donald Lambright, claims an attorney had informed him that his share would be $280 instead of $375, or one-fourth, hence he held up the deal. Without further decree the court provides that within thirty days a deed may be prepared conveying the property to Mr. and Mrs. Patterson for $1500, and if a satisfactory division of the money cannot be made among the four heirs, then it is to be paid into court, and an equitable distribution will be made.

Arguments were heard at court yesterday in the case of John J. McCoy against Adolph Green, in which there is a dispute over stock of the Union Brewing Company, which McCoy claims should be turned over to him and which Green denies.

The case of the Wovenright Knitting Company against the Harry Ketler Clothing Company, Judge Hildebrand has handed down an opinion in which judgment is opened. The case was settled by agreement at court but the defendant claims that the plaintiff did not fulfill the agreement in shipping him certain goods, which were not of the quality that had been agreed upon. The opinion gives the defendant an opportunity to establish his claim.

Little Benefit To Farmers In Lawrence Co.

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Figures made public today by the United States Agricultural Adjustment Administration revealed that Lawrence county and Pennsylvania farmers as a group still profit but little from the Roosevelt administration's crop control program.

Up to May first, after almost two years of operation of the Adjustment Administration, Lawrence county farmers signing crop reduction contracts had received only $1356 in federal benefit payments. Of these, $205 went to farmers agreeing to cut wheat crops and $1150 was paid to farmers of the county promising to reduce production of corn and hogs. Pennsylvania farmers as a whole had received only $2,076,314 in such benefits.

A comparison of these figures with the fact that farmers of the nation as a unit received $790,062,385 in such federal subsidies shows to just what a small degree the administration's costly farm program has aided farmers of Lawrence county and the Keystone state generally.

Butler county farmers had received $2932 in federal benefits up to May first, and Beaver county growers had been paid $1543.

New Style Road Maps Are Issued

Department Of Highways Announces Tourist Maps Are Ready

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, June 6—Release of the 1935 official highway tourist map of Pennsylvania is announced today by Secretary of Highways Warren Van Dyke.

The new map is smaller than the previous editions, scaling approximately nine miles to the inch. It folds to eight inches and three and three quarters, which meets the demands of thousands of motorists for a map that fits the coat pocket and is readily handled. The accordian fold has been retained.

An improved wash drawing of the State Capitol adorns the title fold of the new map. The title includes the significant phrase, "Issued for free distribution." Motorists are urged to refuse payment of any fee or charge for the map.

It is requested that those asking for a copy of the new map to be mailed enclose a two-cent stamp to help cover postage.

Five colors were employed in making the map, principal arteries being shown in red, others in black, with all drainage, county borders, and county names in blue. The Pennsylvania background is buff with a bright yellow border; marginal portions surrounding states are in black or white.

The legend of the map this year does not include a symbol for "Road under construction." This has always proved confusing to users of the map who had no means of knowing when the construction might be completed. Instead, a note directs the motorist to consult the periodical detour bulletin issued by the Department and displayed at filling stations and other public places.

Reverse of the map includes an improved mileage chart sketches of cities and towns. Rules of the road and standard warning signs are shown for the guidance of visitors and others who may be unfamiliar with these data.

Mailed requests for the map should be directed to: Pennsylvania Department of highways, Bureau of Publicity and Information, Harrisburg, Pa.

Sponsors Claim Sunday Movie Bill Will Pass

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 6.—Sponsors of the bill permitting Sunday motion pictures where approved by local option today claimed sufficient votes to drive the bill through the senate on final passage next week.

An informal poll of the upper chamber, they said, showed 27 senators, one more than needed, will vote for the measure which last week was approved by the house. Speedily released from the state government committee, the bill was given first reading yesterday, will be given second reading Monday night and then returned for a public hearing Tuesday at which church groups will again lay down a barrage of opposition.

The Baldi-Dent horse racing and pari-mutuel betting bill will come up for a final vote as a special order of business in the house next Monday night at 11 o'clock. Senate-approved bills permitting Sunday tennis and polo matches also were on the house calendar for the first time. They were released from committee last night with favorable recommendations.

The Sowers bill for a $100,000,000 lottery for old age and blind pensions was on the calendar in position to be called up for final action at any time. Rep. Clinton A. Sowers, the sponsor, delayed action yesterday in the hopes that enough favorable sentiment to pass the bill will develop over the week-end.

Woman Owner Of Mayonnaise Firm Attempts Suicide

Philadelphia Woman Despondent Over NRA Decision Slashes Throat And Wrists

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 6—Facing the financial ruin as the first post-NRA strike in this city kept her mayonnaise manufacturing plant shut, Mrs. Anna Schlorer Smith attempted suicide today, police reported, by slashing her throat and wrists with a razor in the bathroom of her home here.

A domestic told detectives Mrs. Smith had been despondent over the unfavorable publicity attending the walkout a week ago of 111 employes at her plant. Doctors said her condition is serious.

The strikers claim their wages were cut down from $13 to $10 weekly and hours were increased from 40 to 50 weekly following the supreme court's invalidation of NRA.

COINCIDENCE?

SHANGHAI—Lui Tze-fund made so much money out of fortune telling that he thought he would tell his own. So he got out his crystal and gazed into it. To his horror he saw he would die a few days later. He invited all his friends to a party and divided his property among them. The next day he died suddenly. At least, this is the story told by friends.

LAWRENCE WOMAN DELIGHTED WITH RESULTS FROM NEW NATURAL LAXATIVE BREAD

"Prun-O-Wheat Bread Actually Helped Relieve My Trouble" . . . Says Mrs. Guy T. DeLacey of Lawrence, Indiana.

Thousands of families are keeping regular and well with this amazingly tasty new bread. PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread would really be quite white if it were not for the large quantity of concentrated prune juice which it contains, but which—strangely enough—does NOT give the loaf a prune taste.

"After being bothered with constipation for years . . ." writes Mrs. De Lacey," it was indeed a pleasant surprise to find a good, tasty natural laxative food like PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD which actually helped to relieve my trouble. Will say I am well pleased with the effect I am getting from eating it regularly, a few slices at each meal. I always recommend PRUN-O-WHEAT both for its regulative effect and its nice fruit-like flavor."

PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD is made with concentrated prune juice, with its well-known laxative properties and flaked wheat which produces a soft bulk without excessive roughage that helps keep the intestinal tract clean and healthy.

TRY 14 DAY TEST

Eat a slice or two of PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD at every meal for 14 days. Note how amazingly it tones up sluggish systems. And it's most delicious toasted! Order a loaf from your grocer and start today!

Reese Statement Clarifies Ruling

Employables Refusing To Register To Lose Relief, State Order Says

To make clear a recent ruling of the Emergency Relief board applicable to employable persons receiving relief, Supervisor Edward D. Reese of the federal-state employment office, Johnson building, issued the following today:

He said:

1. Those who have already registered in the state employment office, Johnson building, will not be required, under the recent ruling, to register again in that office.

2. Employable persons, both men and women, now on relief rolls and who have not registered, must register with the Pennsylvania state employment service, Johnson building, not later than June 15.

The State Emergency Relief board has ruled that those employables who refuse to register will be dropped from the relief rolls.

3. Within the next few days, all employable persons who are not now registered, will be notified by letter of the time and place their registrations will be taken by a representative of the Pennsylvania state employment service.

4. All relief employables who have complied with the registration requirement will be furnished a certification card, evidencing their willingness to accept offered employment in which they are qualified. The certification card must be shown on request of the relief authorities.

As the new work relief program gets under way, workers will be notified by letter from the state employment office, Johnson building, of their job assignments. Those who are not called for work early in the program are urged to be patient, as sufficient projects are being developed to absorb the anticipated declining relief lists.

Victor Moore Says: "It's the Top in Motor Cars"

Victor Moore, now starring in Broadway's biggest musical hit, "Anything Goes", says: "I bought my new Dodge because of its striking looks . . . and was delighted to find that it gave me amazing gas and oil economy."

And Mrs. Gertrude Regal, 2953 Decatur Ave., Bedford Parkway, N. Y., N. Y., says: "I've got plenty of friends who own small cars, but none of them save money the way my new Dodge does. I get from 3 to 5 more miles per gallon of gas than they do, and my oil costs are as much as 20% less."

Wherever you go, the story is the same. Owners are simply amazed at Dodge economy. And yet that's only one of its advantages. You, too, can enjoy the extra roominess, comfort and luxury of this big, sturdy Dodge—for a trifling few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars. List price now only $645 and up at factory, Detroit.

RFC Aid Granted In Pennsylvania Is Summarized

Over Two Million Dollars Advanced To Pennsylvania Firms By Corporation

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—From the date of its organization up to April first, this year, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had authorized direct loans totaling $2,332,500 to industrial and commercial business concerns of Pennsylvania, RFC Chairman Jones reports.

Of this amount, $578,000 had been actually disbursed to the borrowers up to May first and $380,000 had been withdrawn or cancelled. The balance had not been called for by those for whom the loans had been approved. Pennsylvania ranked fourth of the states in the amount of such loans authorized, New York coming first, Ohio second and New Jersey third.

In addition to these direct loans, the RFC had participated to the extent of $111,250 in bank loans to industrial and commercial business in Pennsylvania and had agreed to participate in an additional $51,200 of such loans.

Local Employes Get Refund On Payments Under Pension Act

Pennsylvania railroad officials here could not estimate the amount of pension fund payments the system has returned to employes of the New Castle district but they reported the sum considerable.

The E. & A. division payments were part of the $2,500,000 in payments returned all over the system by separate checks accompanying the regular pay for the second half of May.

The wholesale refund resulted from the supreme court's invalidation of the Federal Retirement act last May 6.

The refund represented two percent of the earnings of E. & A. employes since August 1, 1934, when the retirement act took effect.

Philip Bosher is 6 feet, 9 inches tall; his brother, Hiram, measures 6 feet, 4 inches; their mother is 6 feet, 2 inches, and "pa" is the smallest, being exactly 6 feet.

LEGISLATURE DELAYS ON WORK FUND SET-UP

State Public Works Projects Are Jeopardized

Millions Of Dollars May Be Lost Through Neglect To Act On Enabling Bills

MEASURES HAVE BEEN NEGLECTED

By SIDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, June 6—Literally millions of dollars worth of proposed public works projects for Pennsylvania were in jeopardy today because of the legislature's failure to act on a series of 23 bills setting up agencies to participate in the president's $4,000,000,000 works plan.

Ten of the measures were stranded in senate committees, seven were in house committees and six were caught in a tangle on the house calendar.

Secretary of Labor and Industry Edward N. Jones has already been appointed administrator of the $250,000,000 Pennsylvania expects exclusive of money for roads and projects sponsored directly by the federal government. It was indicated no appreciable amount of this money can be put to work unless the legislature acts.

Move To Scrap Bills

Virtually all the bills were drafted by the Public Works Administration to meet federal requirements. In general, they set up various authorities, provide for financing and tax levying and validate technicalities necessary to accept federal grants.

A possible move to scrap many of the bills was seen in the senate's action in moving to amend the Thompson act allowing municipalities to accept RFC funds to include also PWA money. It was believed the amendment might obviate the necessity for several of the measures.

The key measure, the Harmuth bill setting up a permanent state planning board, was on the house calendar for final action and may be passed this week.

Should it fail in the senate it was believed Jones could nevertheless continue with the program for this state as a one-man administrative agency.

The Barber and Bradley bills creating general state authorities to build public buildings, armories, hospitals and prisons were stymied in house committee. A senate committee held the Patterson limited dividend housing corporations bill, while another Patterson measure creating a state-wide housing authority and the Ruffenach bill for a public housing authority, were on the house calendar.

Fight Electric Bills

Bills setting up the Pennsylvania Rural Electricification Corporation and power districts were in position to be passed finally in the house this week but the Stank bill for a non-profit electric membership corporation, to promote rural electrification, languished in a senate committee. It was expected to be killed by bitter opposition from utility companies.

Five other "key" bills setting up municipal authorities to build water works, gas plants, electric light, heat and power plants, subways, electric railways, tunnels and other such projects were in various senate committees while a series of six measures to revise Pennsylvania statutes by giving cities, boroughs, townships and school and poor boards taxing powers to finance works projects have not yet emerged from house committee.

PENSION FOR BABIES

(International News Service)

TIENTSIN—Three babies were granted pensions by the Hopei Provincial government. The babies were triplets, the children of a farmer, who was too poor to feed them properly. So the Government voted $100 a year for their maintenance.

Humpty-Dumpty NRA.
Killed In Church.
Not Until Judgment Day.
Many Damocles' Swords.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

REFUSING TO admit the resemblance between NRA and humpty-dumpty, that "all the king's horses and all the king's men" could not put together again, Washington will gather up the pieces of NRA and try to reconstruct "something as good." The process may remind reconstructors of the boy who took his watch apart, put it together and proudly said to his friends, "not only have I put it together, but I have quite a number of pieces left over that I do not need."

AT SAN PEDRO, Actopan, Mexico, a cloudburst and flood killed 310, a majority of them children. The greatest loss of life occurred in a church where the crowd had flocked to an annual religious festival. Waves of mud and sand rushed through the church, buried the worshipers. This disaster will be used by those that oppose belief in religion and seek to discourage it.

There was a great diminution of religious faith after the Lisbon earthquake. Thousands that had crowded for divine protection into a great cathedral were crushed to death when the building collapsed.

SUCH ARGUMENT is feeble, as it would hardly be supposed by anybody of slightest intelligence that the power, ruling this large universe, having made physical laws to govern it, would, in one individual solar system, arbitrarily suspend the law of gravitation, which brings down shaken churches, or any other law.

NOT UNTIL judgment day, if then, will this earth know just what caused the depression. Walter H. Newton, once former President Hoover's secretary, cooperating with Professor Meyers, of Princeton university, writes a series of articles to prove that the depression was ending nicely in 1932, when President Roosevlet, with his bank holiday and his threat of tariff changes, that discouraged production, kept the depression growing.

A letter written by President Hoover and hitherto unpublished, is offered as evidence.

If it is true, as scientists guarantee, that this earth will last at least one million years more, men of 1935 will wait a long time for judgment day and the depression facts.

By that time perhaps we shall not be interested. We may even have forgotten all about them.

THE WEYERHAEUSER kidnapers, however "hard boiled" they may be, must feel nervous, when they hand out one of the $200,000 ransom bills, knowing that the number and series of every bill is in the possession of government detectives.

It will not make spending the money more agreeable to learn that thirty "G-men" from the Attorney General's office will devote their entire time to hunting for those bills and tracing the spenders of them; $200,000 worth of Damocles' swords.

GRETA GARBO, on her way to Sweden where she was born, had one tall, strong Negro and two other men to protect her from photographers. They did the work so well that no photographer took any picture, which was embarrassing. Thereupon Miss Greta Garbo, who is intelligent, posed for the photographers at the window of her taxicab and elsewhere.

A good photographer is as important to actors and politicians as a good poet to a hero. Alexander envied Achilles because Homer wrote about Achilles' exploits, and Alexander had no Homer. A good news photographer is to a "picture star" what Homer was to Achilles.

ACCORDING TO science, no great wisdom is needed for a man "to know his own father," if the court will permit a blood test. Mary Schirp says George H. Hatch is the father of her four-year-old child. He says no, and, to prove it, will consent to blood test, such as has recently been approved by the legislature. Certain "group" differences in the blood of the alleged father and son would prove to scientist that the two were not related, and would enable Mr. Hatch's lawyer to say to Miss Schirp, who asks $500,000 for breach of promise, "you cannot have it."

SIMILAR TESTS are made, in every case, before blood transfusion. It is interesting to know that the higher apes have blood groups similar to those of human beings, and totally different from those of the lower apes. A chimpanzee's blood might be transferred to the veins of a man and save the man's life. William Jennings Bryan would not have liked that idea.

JAPAN, SHOPPING in China, will gather in more valuable Chinese territories, close to Manchukuo, in the Province of Chihli, which includes Peiping and Tientsin.

There is a complex situation, far off in Asia, too far for the average American to follow events clearly or become deeply interested in them. We say, "Let Asia decide matters in Asia, and heaven bless all concerned."

But you cannot help being interetsed in two Chinese editors, who wrote friendly editorials about Japan and were murdered.

Japan demands that the murderers be delivered to Japanese justice.

New Goodrich Tire Gives Blow-Out Protection—FREE!

TO PROTECT against blow-out tragedies and accidents—to give motorists a safer tire—Goodrich engineers developed the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This amazing invention—found only in the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown—resists the terrific heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Blisters don't form. The great, unseen cause of these blow-outs is overcome.

Another life-saver

And for even greater safety, every Silvertown has a big, extra-thick tread. Press your hand on the tread. Feel the big, husky cleats grip. Then you'll realize why Silvertowns also protect you from dangerous "tail-spin" skids. Notice the ruggedness of this extra-thick Silvertown tread that gives months of extra mileage.

No extra cost!

Don't try to squeeze another few hundred miles out of unsafe, tread-worn tires. For all you know, that blister, that blow-out in the making, may be in your tire right now.

Put on a set of Golden Ply Silvertowns without delay. Count yourself among the thousands of motorists enjoying the priceless feeling of security that these life-saving tires give. And, remember, in spite of all their extra safety and mileage, Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires.

"Bill Of Rights" Is Signed Today

Governor Earle Signs Measure Prohibiting "Cut-Rate" On Trade Marked Articles

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa. June 6—Gov. George H Earle today signed the Kobelak bill permitting manufacturers of articles portected by trade mark to stipulate that they cannot be sold at "cut-rate" prices.

Sponsored by Rep. Frank J. Kobelak, Allegheny, the bill is designed as a "bill of rights" to protect trade mark owners against "injuries, unfair and uneconomic practices in the distribution of articles of standard brand or quality" Gov. Earle said signing the measure.

The act becomes effective at once. No penalty is provided in the bill for violation but trade mark owners are allowed civil damages if retailers violate contracts by undercutting stipulated prices.

Free School Days

The executive also signed the Brownfield bill establishing observance of "free school day" between April 1 and 11 annually and the McHenry bill increasing from 16 to 19 years the age limit of discharging pupils of the Pennsylvania orphans home of Scotland.

Other bills signed were:

Harris, providing that election officials must turn over ballot boxes to the proper officials immediately upon completion of the count.

Stockham, providing for payment of school funds to school board by non-profit corporations upon their dissolution.

Allen, authorizing the state to establish fish nurseries in ponds and lakes in addition to streams.

Parks, prohibiting use of weasels in hunting.

VET'S LADIES TO MEET

Members of the Ladies' auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will gather in the Legion home, on North Jefferson street, tonight at 8 o'clock, it is announced.

Registration of new automobiles in South Africa last year was 58 per cent above that of 1933.

The Prince Prefers Americans

Further proof of the Prince of Wales' preference for American women is his choice of the Countess of Carrick (circle) as his latest dancing partner. She is the former Marion Donaghue, of Philadelphia, and succeeds Mrs. Wally Simpson of Baltimore (top with Prince) and Lady Thelma Furness (left), twin sister of Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt.

Officials Rap Freeing Kittens

Stray Felines Cause Terrific Inroad Among Game Birds

HARRISBURG, June 6.—If you want to get rid of a litter of kittens do it in a humane manner and not take them out and free them along the roadside where they will grow up to be killers of game and song birds, members of the Board of Game Commissioners today suggested.

There are about 120,000,000 cats in the United States, over 80,000,000 of which are strays, according to commission officials. The "roadside method" is blamed for the large number of strays.

One cannot blame the cat if it grows up to be a killer when dumped promiscuously along the roadside and left to subsist on whatever he may find, officials said. Natural instinct, other foods lacking, will be to catch the first bird or kill the first young mammal seen. At this time of the year stray cats are a serious menace to all nesting game and song birds, especially the latter.

WHEN LIVES ARE AT STAKE

You need the same tire protection that race drivers demand

KELLY PETILLO ON MAY 30, WON
The five hundred mile Indianapolis race on Firestone tires breaking the track record and driving the entire distance at a rate of 106.240 miles per hour.

This record is an astounding demonstration of tire efficiency. To go 500 miles in less than five hours on this rough and bumpy 26-year-old brick track, without tire trouble of any kind, demonstrates the strength and blowout protection that Firestone builds into their Gum-Dipped Tires.

AB JENKINS ALSO RECENTLY
demonstrated the stamina, efficiency, and blowout protection built into Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. He drove his 5000 pound car over the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, 3000 miles in 23½ hours. This was an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, and although temperatures were as high as 120°, he had no blowouts or tire trouble of any kind.

There are reasons why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires give such amazing blowout protection. Every cord is soaked and every strand is insulated with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. Gum-Dipping is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

Take no chances—protect your life and the lives of others by letting us equip your car today with Firestone Tires and give you the Safety and Blowout Protection that race drivers demand.

Before you buy new tires ask yourself these three questions

1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

Answer No. 1—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

Answer No. 2—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

Answer No. 3—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

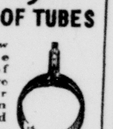
Scaltyte LEAKPROOF TUBES



These new Scaltyte Leak-Proof Tubes will give you greater mileage from your tires and are more economical. The initial cost is but little more than ordinary tubes.

Firestone chemists have developed a process of sealing the inner wall of the tube, which prevents air leakage. This, together with new cured-in rubber valve and an extra reinforced valve base vulcanized into the tube, makes this tube leak-proof and pinch-proof.

Would Share Motor Melon

Local Governmental Units Would Share In $18,963,500 Under Howell Bill

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 6.—Local governmental units would share in an $18,963,500 melon of motor fund money during the next two years under the Howell bill which today bore Senate approval and was in the House for concurrence.

The bill appropriates the money for use in maintaining streets and highways as a means of reducing local road taxes. It was picked off the Senate's postponed calendar and passed without debate, 27 to 20, with Democrats providing opposition in preference to the Bennett bill, also on the postponed calendar, which would turn the task of maintaining second-class township roads over to the state.

The money appropriated by the Howell bill would be split up as follows: $11,352,000 to second-class township supervisors, $3,000,000 to Philadelphia, $1,163,500 to Pittsburgh, $116,500 to Scranton, $1,027,400 to third-class cities, $1,686,900 to boroughs and $617,200 to first-class townships.

Measure Before State Legislature Would Resubmit Question To Voters

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 6—Abolished only last year, the tax qualification for voting would be restored under a proposed constitutional amendment on the senate calender today in position for final action next week.

Sponsored by Senator George Woodward, Philadelphia the amendment would require that all voters pay a local tax before they could cast a ballot. By amendment put into effect last year, the constitution was altered to make this requirement invalid.

To go before the voters, the Woodward amendment must be approved at this and the next session of the legislature.

Constipation Is Relieved By New Laxative Bread

Feeding Tests In Baltimore Children's Hospital Show Value Of Prun-O-Wheat Bread In The Daily Diet

Credit for conclusively demonstrating the highly beneficial effects which children derive from a new natural laxative bread goes to Dr. Lee J. Volenick, well-known Baltimore physician.

When Dr. Volenick found himself charged with the responsibility of helping a group of 54 children suffering from sub-normal elimination at the Nursery & Child's Hospital at Baltimore, he decided to try this new bread.

Selected Because He Considered It Safe and Wholesome

He selected PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread after a thorough study, satisfied that it contained only pure, wholesome, nutritious ingredients. He was particularly interested in the fact that it contained rich concentrated prune juice and flaked wheat because prune juice has long been used by professional people as a safe, natural laxative, and flaked wheat is favorably known because its safe, soft bulk contains no scratchy particles to irritate the delicate intestinal tracts of children.

The children were divided into two groups. One group was fed on PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread, one slice per meal, per child. The second group continued on the regular diet. diet.

New Bread Makes Laxatives Unnecessary

Due to their condition when entering the hospital, it had been necessary to give all of these children doses of milk of magnesia or mineral oil several times a week. After a comparatively short period on PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread diet, laxatives were no longer needed.

The condition of the children who were eating PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread at every meal improved rapidly. At the end of the test period, every single one of them had been restored to a condition of normal elimination so important in the health of the child—whereas, the children who were eating the regular diet—without PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread still had to be given purgatives and remained in a generally unsatisfactory condition.

Other Important Effects

The important effect of this test went far beyond the matter of merely improving the regularity of the children; with the normal elimination restored, the children in the PRUN-O-WHEAT group showed an increased appetite. There was also a more constant normal temperature on the part of this group accompanied by a noticeable improvement in disposition and social behavior.

In summing up his experiment, Dr. Volenick reports:

"From these experiments I concluded that PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread not only increased the elimination but decreased the necessity of giving purgatives which were given very frequently prior to these experiments."

The importance of this test and the conclusions which Dr. Volenick draws from it can hardly be overemphasized. It is generally admitted by authorities on children that most behavior problems in children undergoing this test were suffering. There can no longer be any doubt but that the splendid results obtained from the use of PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread in this instance can be duplicated in any home.

Reynolds In Race For Prothonotary

Former Sheriff Announces Today For Nomination On Republican Ticket

"BUCK" REYNOLDS

Harrison M. "Buck" Reynolds, former sheriff of Lawrence county and now a resident of Union township, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for prothonotary and clerk of courts. His statement of announcement follows:

"For the first time in many years Lawrence county must choose a prothonotary and clerk of courts other than the present incumbent, Ralph M. Campbell. After a half century of outstanding work in that office Mr. Campbell has said that he would not be a candidate. Were he a candidate I would not enter the lists for his services to this county have been invaluable.

"However, Mr. Campbell has made known his intention of not seeking the office again and I am a candidate for the Republican nomination, subject to the primaries on September 17.

"I am not unfamiliar with the work of the prothonotary and clerk of courts. For four years it was my privilege to serve as sheriff of Lawrence county and in that time I was constantly in touch with the office of the prothonotary. As sheriff I endeavored to render the very best service possible and not even my enemies will say that I was not on the job.

"The office of prothonotary and clerk of courts is an unusually important one. Because Lawrence county has been fortunate in that Mr. Campbell has been in the office for so many years, the importance of the office may not have appealed to the average citizen. It is highly important and inefficiency in the office can cost the taxpayer untold sums of money.

"I believe I am qualified for the office. The constant interchange of documents between the office of sheriff and prothonotary gave me an insight into the workings of the office that will stand me in good stead, should I be fortunate enough to win the nomination and election.

"With no thought of boasting I refer the voters to my record as sheriff. If in those four years I served faithfully, if my promise to fulfill the duties of the office was carried out to the satisfaction of the voters, then I ask the support of the Republican voters on September 17."

Dean Asks That Cardinals Trade Him To New Club

"Dizzy" Dean Says "I'll Never Be Any Good With Cardinals"; Likes Cubs

JOHN WHITEHEAD SUFFERS DEFEAT

By TONY PUGLIESE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 6—Leave it to Dizzy Dean to start the National League trouble pot simmering once more. Activities in the senior loop neared the boiling point today as the Diz was on record as the self-styled "best pitcher in the major leagues who wants to be traded by the St. Louis Cardinals because I'll never be any good with them." Brother Paul, the younger Dean concurs in typical fashion.

It seems the St. Louis Cardinals team is composed of 22 men and the Great Lizzy Dean. He was charged with lying down on the job when the Pirates hammered him for four runs Tuesday. Instead of laughing off the remark, and bearing down with the excellent brand of stuff he admittedly has, Dizzy flared, blared and bellowed at his teammates, and threatened to make Ducky Medwick eat his jeers.

Up To Frisck

Whatever the outcome of the latest furor-whether he is traded to a club more suitable to his temperament, or soothed, or tamed by discipline—Sam Breadon, president Branch Rickey, vice president will uphold any decision made by Manager Frankie Frisch. If internal dissention must continue with Dizzy on the squad, Dizzy will doubtless find himself traded. If he stays on and plays listlessly, antagonizing his teammates, the Cards may find themselves out of the pennant chase even though they have the stuff to battle it out in the home stretch.

After dropping the opener, 4 to 3 to the Phillies, the league leading New York Giants came back strong at the plate to cop the nightcap 7 to 4. Dolph Camilli's eight homer spelled Fred Fitzsimmons' doom in the first inning, and Leon Chagnon, replaced Fitz, allowing only three hits in the last seven and a third innings. Fifteen hits, four by Joe Moore, gave Carl his sixth win.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves without the services of Babe Ruth, split a twin bill. Van Mungo won a five hit shutout for the Dodgers 3 to 0, and the Braves countered with a 10 to 2 win in the finale.

Whitehead Loses First

Although held to five hits by Gene Schott, Cincinnati rookie, the Chicago Cubs continued their fight toward the top of the league, defeating the Reds 5 to 2.

In the American League it was a tragic day for the rookie pitching sensations, Vito Tamulis, Yankees, and Johnny Whitehead, Chicago White Sox. A five run Philadelphia athletic attack, featured by Bob Johnson's homer with the base loaded, stopped Tamulis' win streak at five as the Athletics defeated the Yankees, 9 to 7.

Whitehead, who had won eight and lost none, suffered his initial setback as Jack Knott, St. Louis Browns hurler whitewashed the Chicago White Sox 2 to 0. Whitehead went the route and allowed seven hits.

Indians Lose Game

The Washington Senators snapped an eight game losing streak by nosing out the Boston Red Sox 5 to 4 in ten innings. Lefty Grove walked Cliff Bolton with the bags loaded in the tenth, to force in the deciding tally.

At Detroit, the Tigers engaged in a double-header with the Cleveland Indians, winning the opener from the tribesmen 5 to 4. This game was held up for some time due to showers. The nightcap got off very late, and went just six innings, when darkness forced a halt, with the score tied 4 all. Manager Mickey Cochrane hit a home run in the last inning of this game for the Tigers.

London is experimenting with new traffic signals which tell motorists how much time will elapse before the signals change. With each change of the main signals all six slots light up. Then they go out one by one, at intervals of a few seconds, until the main signal changes again.

"Alabama" Pitts Graduates Today From Sing Sing

Refused Permission To Join Albany Team In International Baseball League

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 6.—Edwin "Alabama" Pitts walks out of Sing Sing prison today a free man, a football hero and a baseball star, and the center of a raging public controversy.

Pitts leaves his cell after five hectic years as the best all-around athlete ever to roam Sing Sing "campus." He had been enrolled for an 8 to 16 year course at the Hudson Institution, but he comported himself so mildly, when not on the athletic field, and was such an excellent student, that he earned his diploma in only five years.

Alabama thought he had a job waiting for him at graduation, with the Albany Senators of the International baseball league. But his debut into organized baseball circles was deplayed, perhaps definitely curtailed by the curt "no" of Judge W. G. Braham, president of the National Association of professional baseball leagues.

The judge started something with that "no", and Pitts' cause is being championed by many leading educators, sports fans and sportsmen. Leading the "Give Alabama a Break" forces is his old friend and dean, Warden Lewis E. Lawes, who thinks the Braham ruling "unfair and poor public policy."

UNIVERSALS ENTER PROTEST TO LEAGUE

The Universal A. A. golfing team has entered a protest to President Walther of the Business Men's golf league today over the splitting of a point between Howard Warnock and Fred Allen in the Penn Power-Universal A. A. match Tuesday at the Municipal course.

The Universals claim that the point rightfully belongs to them. It seems that Allen and Warnock were both at the course willing to play but could not locate each other.

President Walther has called a meeting of the managers of the various teams for next Tuesday evening at Castle Hills course after the matches. There is considerable business to be taken up for discussion. The current protest will also be acted upon.

WEST MIDDLESEX HERE TONIGHT

West Middlesex baseball team will be at Colonial field tonight at 6 o'clock (weather permitting) to battle the Colonial A. C. team, it was announced today The Colonial A. C. and Portersville game last night was rained out. It will be played at a later date.

The West Middlesex team is regarded as one of the strongest semi-pro teams in this district and the Colonials will have to be at their best to take the decision.

Soft Ball Games Are Rained Out

Teams Asked To Try And Play Postponed Games Tonight

All games in the city soft ball league were rained out last night, and it has been asked by President Walther that the same schedule be carried out today, if possible, in order that postponed games do not pile up.

The Capitolos and Cancos had previously arranged to play tonight and will carry out this game, with the games for these teams scheduled last night set for playoff on next Tuesday.

Four games will be played tonight as follows, weather permitting:

Capitolos vs American Can, B. & O. field.

Croton vs St. Andrews, Gaston park.

Tolans vs Unions, Centennial field.

Keystones vs Davis, Lehigh field.

The Radiator and Capitolo game will be played next Tuesday night as will the American Can vs Saks game at Lehigh field.

Your boy needs us and we need him.
You boy needs us and we need him.

We have a huge stock of boys' summer apparel that we must sell, for we can't wear it ourselves.

We brought it to New Castle for YOUR boy . . . and the gang that whistles outside your home these mornings.

At high prices . . . we'd do some business. At average prices . . . we'd do a normal business . . . but we've got to do a tremendous business, for we have a whale of a stock this summer.

Therefore, when you see a value at Winter's in boys' cool apparel that makes you wonder, just remember that we have to have the city's lowest prices—quality considered—if we are to do its largest business.

Two Games Carded Here On Friday

Rain Stops All Lawrence County Baseball League Tilts Yesterday

Rain prevented games scheduled for last night between Lawrence County Baseball league clubs being played. The teams have been ordered to play the games off as soon as possible. The next scheduled games on the regular schedule will be Friday night. Mahoning A. A. will play Ellwood City Friday instead of Saturday and Castlewood will play Hillsville. Mahoning and Ellwood City will clash at the E & A field and Castlewood will journey to Hillsville.

POSTPONED GAME IS SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Tonight at the B. & O. Field the American Can Company soft ball team will play the Capitolo team in a postponed City Soft Ball league game. The contest will start at 6 o'clock. Ted DelRoss will go to the mound for the "Caps". The catching job will be in the hands of Sam Bullano.

H. Brooks and "Dutch" Ross have been assigned to handle this game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jack Gibbons, son of Mike, once known as the Phantom of St. Paul, will make his eastern debut tonight at Pittsburgh with Jimmy Belmont of Braddock as his opponent. Belmont fought Babe Risko, conqueror of Teddy Yarosz, recently at Cleveland. Gibbons has won 51 fights and will be handled by his father in tonight's bout. Some local fans will witness the scrap, which is scheduled to go 10 rounds.

United States Davis cup tennis team has sailed for Europe. Wilmer Allison, Sidney Wood and John Van Ryn are the veterans and may have to carry the burden in the interzone finals against the European zone survivor but there's an outside chance that Gene Mako and Donald Budge, youthful Californians, named on the team for the first time, may be called upon for doubles duty. The U. S. team will tune up in the Queen's club tourney at London, June 13 and play in the all-England championships at Wimbledon, June 20, before plunging into cup competition.

Among those entered to date are Bernard Friedman and Leslie Dilks, both of Phialdelphia, and Sam Harbison and Charles Lockhart, Pittsburgh. Bernard T. Welch, Washington, D. C., is also entered.

NONPARIEL CLUB SHOOTS TONIGHT

Karl Rolrer, secretary of the Nonpariel Rifle Club Club announced today that a shoot would be held tonight at the Nonpariel range in the west side garage at 7:30 o'clock. The shoot tonight is open to anyone who cares to attend.

National Open Starts Today

Gene Sarazen Is Favorite To Cop National Open Play At Oakmont Course

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, Pa., June 6.—Out here on the greatest of golf courses, a backbreaker if there ever was one, the field of 162 entries started off this morning in the monumental championship that was to decide the National Open golf title.

In the field were such as Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Henry Picard, and the defending champion, Olin Dutra.

Mr. Dutra, as a matter of fact, is just another golfer here. His defense of the title is generally accepted as one of those things, the outstanding favorite being Sarazen, who has not won the title in the last three years.

Of course, it was admitted that this was not the kind of a golf links that would make anybody a favorite. Traps were set out here in such a way to catch the unwary. Long hitters in particular might find themselves in great travail.

Difficult Course

That naturally would go for such as Sarazen, Picard, Dutra, Wood and Hagen. As a matter of fact, these golfers have discovered no particular method for playing this golf course.

It happens to be at once the greatest and the longest on record and the belief is that if 300 is broken, the man who does it will be the open champion.

The course not only presents tremendous difficulty, there being nothing but disaster for those who do not hit straight shots. It is significant that the immortal Bobby Jones only won the title here in three attempts.

His championship was achieved on the easiest, for him, title attempt the same being the National amateur championship. When he attempted to defend the open championship in 1927 here he finished so far behind that it was almost the following day.

The changes in the body tissues during inflammation was first studied out on the skin of frogs, the bat's wing or the tadpole's tail.

NATURE PRESENTS—

Orang Utan

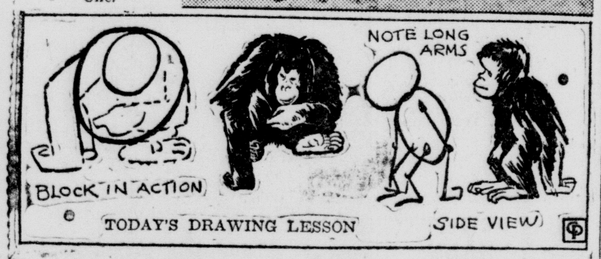
WHERE FOUND
Borneo and Sumatra.

PHYSICAL FEATURES
Four feet three inches high; seven feet three inches from tip to tip of extended arms; broad, clumsy body, with short, weak legs and long, strong arms; narrow head, broad face with bulging snout and big nostrils; small reddish ears; beard two inches long; no tail. Color—brown skin covered with lank red hair.

SPAN OF LIFE
Five years.

FOOD
Nuts and fruit.

OFFSPRING
One.



Far up in the trees of the swampy forests of Borneo and Sumatra the orang utan builds a "hut" where he lives. More gentle than the gorilla, orangs are docile and playful when young. They are apt scholars when they wish to be, dislike being ridiculed and enjoy making people laugh at their tricks. Taking kindly to capivity, many have proved to be remarkably intelligent. When attacked, the orang moves from tree to tree or hides behind a trunk.

A telegram costs $2.51 and Western Union gets 51 cents for each one—a pretty handsome profit if you know what I mean. Warner Brothers Boosted To New High In Otherwise Dull Market Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 6.—Boosting of Warner Bros. common and preferred to new highs for the year featured a listless stock market session today. The company's bonds also were sharply higher.

United States Smelting rose more than two points, Cerro De Pasco, Howe Sound and American Smelting scored smaller gains and copper shares firmed sympathetically.

Utilities drifted slightly lower. Rails were mixed, Atchison slightly under yesterday's close and New York Central, Southern Pacific and several others hovering around their closing prices.

Coca Cola and International Business Machines were higher. Eastman Kodak slipped off, Chrysler was heavy, General Motors held its own and auto equipments were steady.

New York Air Brake was strong; U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and other industrials were quiet; foods, aviations and specialties were steady.

Commodity markets were quiet, cotton up about 65 cents a bale while wheat marked time.

Despondent Nurse Commits Suicide

Philadelphia Nurse Leaps From 14th Floor Of Hotel, Leaves Two Notes

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Tired of living in a world that didn't "seem to have any place for her," a 26-year-old graduate nurse early today leaped to her death from a 14th floor bedroom of the Hotel Adelphia in the centre of the business district.

Several hours after the suicide, police identified the victim as Mildred Walton, a native of Brooksville, Pa.

Shortly before taking the death leap, the young woman wrote two notes and telephoned a doctor at the Philadelphia hospital in which she had been a patient until three weeks ago. To the physician she outlined her plans to end her life.

One note read: "No one is responsible for my death—just the fact that I no longer care to live—there doesn't seem to be any place for me, so, if not, why should I be here?"

The second said: "A coward always seeks the easiest way out—it takes a coward to die, a brave person to live. If you don't think so, try it. If you blame anyone you are as crazy as I am."

Pittsburgh Woman Held In Jail Cell, Awaits Hearing On Shooting Charge

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 6.—Because the man she is accused of wounding is "afraid of her," Mrs. Esther Fish, 34-year-old widow, remained in jail today, still awaiting a hearing on a felonious shooting charge.

The wounded man, Irving S. Zamore, remained in a hospital in a critical condition. Zamore was said to have told authorities he did not want Mrs. Fish released from jail because she "would come to the hospital and cause a disturbance."

Hospital physicians said Zamore's condition should have improved sufficiently today to determine whether or not a hearing would be advisable.

Protest Withdrawal Of Liquor License

(International News Service)

VANDERGRIFT, Pa., June 6—Seeking relief from the prospect of 60 years of absolute prohibition here attorneys for the Italian Union Mutual Benefit Society will start action in Dauphin county next week.

They will file an action requiring the Pennsylvania liquor control board to show cause why the society's liquor license, which expired last January, should not be renewed. The society will argue that enforcement of Vandergrift's 39 year-old dry property deeds rests with the Vandergrift Land and Improvement Company and not with the liquor control board, and that to withdraw the license after a year is confiscatory and unjust.

If the dry regime continues here, a $40,000 investment in the sons of Italy hall will be wiped out, according to the society's president.
